

What speed is right for you?

Do you have several devices using your Internet at one time? Do you like to stream movies or sporting events using a lap top computer, smart TV or other device? If you answered yes to either question, please consider one of our higher Internet speeds. They're designed to support multiple devices and deliver outstanding performance for streaming activities. For more information on the Internet service that's right for you, please contact our office for details.

Limitations of ADSL

- Distance sensitive.
- Actual DSL speeds are dependent upon distance and loop conditions.
- DSL service is dependent upon local network conditions. Each phone line must be tested and qualified. Testing will be done at the time of order. Additional costs may apply, but will be reviewed with customer before provisioning.
